

President Pals with Famous Trio in Mountain Camp Where Recreation Renews the Vigor of their Minds

Upper picture: Seated, left to right—Henry Ford, Thomas A. Edison, President Harding, H. S. Firestone, Bishop William F. Anderson. Standing, left to right—George B. Christian, Jr., Secretary to the President; Russell Firestone, H. S. Firestone, Jr., Edsel Ford. Left: President Harding and Mr. Firestone horseback riding. Right: The presidential smile leaves no doubt as to the bracing effects of the mountain air. At the table, left to right: Mr. Edison, Mrs. Ford, President Harding, Mrs. Firestone and Mr. Ford.

A TYPICAL day in camp is depicted in the scenes above, taken during the recent camping tour of President Harding, H. S. Firestone, the tire manufacturer; Henry Ford, Detroit manufacturer, and Thomas A. Edison, the inventive genius.

Cares of state, financial worries and new inventions were dismissed from mind. Three important daily functions were breakfast, luncheon and dinner, their appetites whetted by the keen mountain air, while the president enjoyed several horseback rides on Mr. Firestone's favorite horse.

In many respects the camping trip was the most unique of its kind, not able alike for the brilliance of mind and prominent position of its principals. It is doubtful if four men could be brought together who would attract the attention that came to the president, Mr. Edison, Mr. Firestone and Mr. Ford. Nevertheless, they managed successfully to elude the crowds, which seemed to respect their desire for privacy.

The little log hut at the left of the picture was the only building near the camp, and it was not inhabited. The campers slept in individual tents, one of which was signed the president. After the president left the party, being called back to Washington, the others continued on through the Maryland mountains, coming out in West Virginia, making several overnight stands before they abandoned their "back to nature" outing. Mrs. Edison, Mrs. Firestone and Mrs. Ford accompanied their husbands.

When you come right down to reason, what is there to "discount" tires—

THE next time a friend comes to you all excited about some wonderful tire bargain—ask him how much value he ought to get for each dollar of tire money.

It's astonishing that any car owner today should not know all the tire service he is entitled to.

Nor how to check up between the economy of par quality on one hand—and big discounts, surplus stocks, discontinued lines and retreads on the other.

For two years U. S. Tire makers have been telling the American people all about tires.

They have laid open the tire business from every angle.

They have always led the fight for better tires.

They have consistently maintained quality first standards with certain economy for the tire buyer.

They have established 92 Factory Branches all over the country. Perfecting U. S. distribution so that you get a fresh, live tire every time you buy a U. S. Tire.

So when a man once decides on U. S. Tires he knows what he is getting in quality—service—economy.

In support of his own judgment he gets the pledged word and reputation of the largest and most successful tire concern in the world.

A sound reason for the fact that you see more U. S. Tires on more cars than ever this year.

"You get a fresh, live tire every time you buy a U. S. Tire."

The U. S. CHAIN TREAD

One of the few tires of which it may be said that they deliver economy year in and year out and tire after tire.

United States Tires

United States Rubber Company

Draper & Draper Co., Gainesboro

FARM FOR SALE

My farm of 133 good rich acres. About 50 acres of level creek bottom; balance slightly rolling. Most all of the farm in clover, timothy and blue grass. One of the best stock farms in the county; 10 minutes run to four churches and thriving little town and railroad station; 1 mile to good school; 1 hour run to Nashville, just close enough for truck farming. Has practically a new eight room house, two barns, tenant house and plenty of everlasting well and creek water.

Price $15,000 with terms. If interested write Frank E. Patton, Edenwald, Tenn., R-1.

What does the Work?

RED SEAL LYE

THE cleaning power of all soaps and cleansers is lye. Soap is nothing more than grease and water and lye, sometimes perfumed.

You can make your own soap at a great saving, out of Red Seal Lye. Simply mix it with grease and water according to directions.

Red Seal Lye is the very best lye your money can buy. It is pure lye, granulated, and packed in cans that are easy and convenient to use. To use it by itself for cleaning floors, woodwork, dishes, clothes, simply dissolve it in water and use the water as a cleanser. Red Seal Lye, sifted into the sink, absolutely cleans out the pipes and prevents them from clogging up. It softens water—saves soap—and is a wonderful disinfectant. Always ask your storekeeper for, and be sure to get, the old reliable Red Seal Granulated Lye.

Full directions for making soap, softening water and using Red Seal Lye for house cleaning, are printed on the reverse side of the label. Tear this off and use it as a reference.

P. C. TOMSON & COMPANY
Philadelphia, Penna.

A Square Deal For The Farmers.

(continued from page 1)

employed by those producing and marketing other products. They are going to do it by merchandizing their products instead of dumping them with out regard to market demands. They are going to do it by cooperative community effort, by cohesive organization, never by striking and demoralizing the country. And there is one thought that should get fixed in minds of every non-producer of farm products—that is that he is a consumer of food and his only available source of supply is the surplus produced for marketing by the farmer. He should know that the farmer can live, with some inconvenience, without producing much surplus, but that he (the non-producer) cannot live without the farmer's surplus, and far that reason, if no other, he should lend his co-operation in every way possible to aid the farmer in getting a fair margin of profit for his labor.

When sensible people realize to the full the important part the farmers plays in the very life of the country, they will help instead of hinder him. A policy that is a handicap to the prosperity of the farmer is as unwise as was the fabled foolish fellow who killed the goose that laid the golden egg.

"If we want to insure a surplus of foodstuff being produced by the farmers, they should be helped to build good roads, good schools and churches in the country. When those advantages are provided in the country districts, non-producers of farm products in the cities and industrial centers need have no fear of a shortage of farm products. Without such facilities, there may be grave fears of such a calamity."

NON-RESIDENT NOTICE

Bank of Whitleyville, VS

W. S. Branch, Princ., J. B. Gaines, J. W. Meadows and C. C. Forkum, securities.

Whereas, a warrant was issued by me on the 21st, day of July 1921, authorizing any lawful officer to summon Will S. Branch, J. B. Gaines, J. W. Meadows and C. C. Forkum to appear before me, or some other Justice of the Peace of Jackson County, to answer the complaint of the Bank of Whitleyville in an action of debt on a note of $75.00, which warrant was placed in the hands of R. R. Hall, a deputy sheriff of said county, and has been returned with the following endorsement: "Came to hand same day issued. Search was made by me and the defendant is not to be found in my county. July 21st, 1921. R. R. Hall, D. S." Wherefore, it was ordered by me, on motion of said securities, that a judicial attachment issue against the estate of the said Will S. Branch, said attachment having been issued by me on the 21st day of July 1921, and levied on the property of the said W. S. Branch and returned to me. It is therefore ordered that publication be made for four consecutive weeks in the Jackson County Sentinel, a newspaper published in the town of Gainesboro, Tenn., commanding the said Will S. Branch to appear before me at my office at Stone, in the 13th district of Jackson County, on the 12th day of September, 1921, and make defense to said suit, or it will be proceeded with ex parte. This Aug. 8th, 1921.

B. S. Stone, J.P.

Gold Horseshoes

Expense is not efficiency. Don't pay for gold horseshoes when you buy your printing.

Sensible printing on sensible paper—Hammermill Bond—will save you money and get results for you.

That is the kind of work we do and the kind of paper we use.

Use More Printed Salesmanship. Ask us.